Tomorrow's Greens - 26 September

Just a quick update on what those playing tomorrow should expect on the greens.

All greens have been hollow cored and top dressed as planned this week. The top dressing has been brushed in however still needs some rain to wash it completely into greens. As we have not had this rain yet and have had heavy dew in the past few mornings it has not been possible to either cut or roll greens as the equipment just clogs up with sand. Therefore, unfortunately unless we get overnight rain I would expect the staff to only be able to brush the greens in the morning. So expect them to be a little slower than recent weeks and hopefully not too bumpy! I am sure that everyone recognises that this is the short term pain we need to take in order get the best greens possible in the longer term. As always, your patience and understanding is appreciated.

Finally I would like to give a special mention to the hit squad members for the shifts that they put in this week helping clear the cores from the greens, it was simply outstanding!

Also to Mark McDaid for fixing the water taps in the barn.... Thank-you!!
